HAIR SALON

Chris Maddox spent two years as an apprentice to a renowned French hairdresser. He learned how to consider each person's features and lifestyle in order to create a look that is perfectly unique. Chris brought the French method to Greenville, and now he and his staff bring out the best in everyone who visits their chic-yet-laid-back salon.

They recognize that to truly exceed expectations they must be on top of their craft. Their in-house training program, Christopher Ashley Model Project (c.a.m.p), is a fun, high-energy way for both the stylists and guests to try something new. Anyone can be a model—it's a great way to try out a new look and meet the Christopher Ashley team at the same time.

Chris and the team travel to New York several times a year to train at the famed Bumble and Bumble University. He also brings in top stylists to train the staff in-house. "Even in today's economy, you can't afford not to invest in your staff," explains Chris. "They are the future of my business." Unlike many stylists in the industry, they are passionate and serious about their career choice. They keep their focus where it belongs—on you.

DID YOU KNOW?

Before Chris and Ashley's two daughters were born, Chris spent his weekends playing competitive beach volleyball.
